Welcome

The Nursing Bank provides short-term staffing support to in-patient units. Nursing Bank nurses have the opportunity to care for patients in a wide variety of general and specialist areas and develop new skills.

Nursing bank staff are valued members of the team at MMUH. We recognise that you provide a rich resource of nursing experience and commitment which complements our professional nursing community. We aim to provide a Nurse Bank that achieves an optimal balance between:

- Meeting your needs in terms of flexible working hours
- Offer you the choice of working across a wide range of general and specialty areas
- Providing a satisfying nursing experience by being part of MMUH team and
- Ensuring continuity of high-quality and person-centered care.

Opportunities

Opportunities arise regularly for permanent allocations and permanent work contracts.

Internal advertisements are posted outside the MMUH Nursing Bank Office each week.

- Emphasis on Continuing Professional Development and career growth
- Opportunity to attend Conferences and Study Days
- Opportunity to get involved in hospital committees and Quality Improvement Initiatives
- Access to clinical updates and short courses offered centrally through our Centre for Nurse Education. We will assist you in planning these activities

Projects / Research / Lean

The Mater Hospital prides itself on the participation of its nursing staff in ongoing Lean projects.

Nursing Bank staff are encouraged and eligible to access and apply for projects.
